- construction & engineering
- education & higher education

Our clientele include major local & multinational corporations, listed entities, industry leaders, and prominent individuals in these key industries. The ethos of the firm is to always go the extra mile for our clients, taking them through complex legal processes every step of the way and providing them with holistic legal solutions with their commercial needs in mind.

We embody courage and ingenuity in boldly furthering and safeguarding our clients' interests before the courts and other dispute resolution forums. At the same time, we are also critically independent in our thinking by employing unconventional strategies and viewing things from alternative perspectives.

These are some of the qualities that contribute to our litigators having an in-depth expertise in fraud and forensic investigations, evidence extraction, asset tracing, asset freezing (Mareva order), search and seizure (Anton Piller order), as well as obtaining other injunctive orders.

At Izral Partnership, the satisfaction of our clients is what we use to measure success of our practice. We have also been recognised in leading global legal directories. The Legal 500 describes us as “[a] small outfit but with impressive lawyers” having “an impressive client roster”, and we have been recently praised for our “very good knowledge and responsiveness”. Chambers also testify that market commentators attest that we are a team of “very experienced litigators”.
